Thomas Davitt, who fell from the roof of Fall View Hotel, died at the City Hospital.

Steve Elkins denies that he is interested in the contract with the Government for taking seals.

The convention of strikers in the Pennsylvania coke region voted unanimously to continue the strike.

The Louisiana Supreme Court has refused a rehearing in the lottery mandamus case.

One man was killed and four others seriously injured by the falling in of a roof at St. Louis.

Ninety members of the English House of Commons are suffering from the prevailing epidemic, influenza.

The American, a Republican paper published at Hopkinsville, was sold last week to satisfy a claim.

The damage to growing crops in Northern Texas by the hail storm last week, it is said, will reach half a million.

One man was fatally and seven seriously hurt in a riot of street-car strikers at Grand Rapids, Mich., Tuesday.

Joseph Patton, a switchman in the yards at East Louisville, was run down by a caboose and his left arm was broken.

Geo. F. Olmstead, a Brockwayville (Pa.) boy just out of knee-breeches, has been offered $40,000 for a fire escape he has patented.

A heavy hail storm, crossing Northern Texas in the vicinity of Gainesville, did immense damage to fields of wheat ready for reaping.

Lloyd Bowers, for twenty years cashier of the First National Bank of Mobile, committed suicide. He was despondent from ill health.

By the allotment made by the Secretary of War for arming and equipping the militia, Kentucky gets $11,978, and Tennessee $11,057. The money will be available July 1, next.

Stanford Journal: "That is a pretty strong ticket you Democrats have selected," said Col. W. O. Bradley, on his way to Lexington to put up one for it to knock down.

O. W. Brown, a farmer of Graves county, attempted to ride an unbroken colt, which threw him, breaking his neck. Death was instantaneous.

The Supreme Lodge, Knights of Honor, refused to limit the age of membership to forty-five years; voted down biennial sessions, and declined to raise official salaries.

The census report shows that the total bonded debt of Kentucky counties in 1890 was $6,068,816; the floating debt, $268,003, and the sinking fund $388,167.

Miss Beecham, aged 20, of Hawesville, was accidentally shot with a Flaubert rifle in the hands of her nephew, Richard Stiffler. The wound is necessarily fatal.

William Davidson, a carpenter, fell from the second story of a house at Ninth and Broadway Louisville and sustained injuries from which he died Tuesday.

Clayton Lloyd, formerly a Dale county, Ala., minister, and recently sentenced to prison for poisoning his wife and five children, was shot dead by a guard while in the act of setting fire to the convict quarters at Pratt coal mines.

The Post-office at Coffeetown, Kansas, was robbed Monday night. About $500 in stamps and the same amount in money, all the registered letters and the money order books were stolen. There is no clue to the robbers.

Prof. Geo. Gossman, who died at Milwaukee this week, had the reputation of being one of the finest linguists in this country. He spoke fluently nine different languages. He spent ten years teaching in Antioch and Jerusalem, and for several years was a private tutor to the sons of the Presidents of Peru and Chili.

A Boston preacher came out boldly and said he not only liked good beer but must have it to drink. His congregation did not threaten to burn him for a heretic, but advanced his salary $180 a year—a sort of genteel invitation to him to invite his soul with the amber fluid and good luck to him. Tolerant is broadening in Boston, anyhow.—World.

Henry Welch, a white man whose skin had turned black, died at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, Sunday afternoon. He entered the hospital May 6, and his case excited a great deal of interest. His skin turned from white to a light-yellow color, and then to a deep-sable shade. It was due to an affection of the liver and is a very rare disease. Henry Six, a young man of Noblesville, Ind., is affected with the same disease that affected Henry Welch. Six is turning blacker every day and begins to look like a negro. His physicians are baffled and say that the trouble comes primarily from the liver.

A number of Kentuckians who were in attendance on the Convention held in Cincinnati the past week, met in Covington on Wednesday and organized a People's Party of Kentucky. Some sixty or seventy persons were present, less than one-half of them being delegates to the Alliance, and the rest mechanics of Covington and Newport. There were no farmers present from the country round about, and only two from the entire Sixth district. There was much doubt with many of the visiting delegates as to the wisdom and expediency of organizing a separate party, and nominating a ticket for it. Those who thought this ought to be deferred until a convention might be called that would be fairly representative of the State were overborne by those who would have a new party, and would have it at once. There was considerable embarrassment in the crowd when some of the conservative delegates wanted to know what authority there was for the Alliance delegates assuming to take part in the movement, or get it up. It was agreed that the Farmers' Alliance was not responsible for it in any way, and that the meeting was in obedience to a call made a few days ago by the citizens of Graves county. On this basis the meeting organized as "the People's Party of Kentucky," and all present were declared members of it on professing fealty to its principles. S. B. Erwin, of Hickman, was elected Chairman, and W. H. Marsh, of Franklin, Secretary. Judge Guthrie, of Louisville, and others from Kansas and Dakota addressed the assembly.

The platform adopted demands the abolition of all National Banks; the creation of Government Sub-Treasuries, which shall lend money to the people at a rate of not more than 2 per cent. secured by mortgages on land and non-perishable goods; the stoppage by law of all dealings in futures in agricultural and mercantile products; the unlimited coinage of silver, and the abolition of alien ownership of lands.

A set of supplementary resolutions specially applicable to Kentucky demand the reduction of all salaries of State and county officers to what will be reasonable compensation only; that the State tax on mortgages be abolished; that penitentiary prisoners be worked only inside the walls.

A State ticket was nominated as follows: For Governor, Col. Pollock Barbour, of Jefferson county; Lieutenant Governor, Dr. S. F. Smith, of Franklin county; Attorney General, G. F. D. Guffey; Auditor, W. G. Fulkerson, of Ohio county; Treasurer, I. G. Sally, of Trigg county; Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. W. Morris, of Ballantyne county; Register of the Land Office, T. B. Herrold, of Butler county; Clerk of Court of Appeals, John G. Blair, of Nicholas county.

A Costly Lunch.

Just before the balloting for Register of Land Office was to commence in Louisville Convention, the Bourbon delegates went out to take a hasty lunch, asking Will Owens to cast the vote for them if called for before their return. In the meantime though, Claude Thomas came in and Bourbon being called he cast the 10 votes for Swango. After the delegation returned Chairman Armstrong tried to get the vote of Bourbon changed to Corbett, and this was the principal cause of a new ballot being taken, and Corbett who had been nominated by three votes was on the last ballot beaten. So this cheap lunch of the Bourbon delegation cost Corbett the loss of an office for four years, and as he is very poor, he will feel the loss of the little salary.—(Kentuckian Citizen.)

The People's Party met in Cincinnati last week, and resolved to put a Presidential ticket in the field. The Convention appointed a Central Committee to represent the party, attend the National Conference called for February 22, 1892, and unite with that and other reform organizations. If no agreement be reached there, the Committee is authorized to call a National Convention, not later than 1892, for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice-President. The resolutions adopted endorse the St. Louis, Ocala and Omaha platforms, and demand the Sub-Treasury scheme, free silver coinage, equal taxation, revenues limited to Government requirements, an income tax, popular election of the President, prohibition of alien land ownership, favorable consideration of universal suffrage, hard money pension payments, an eight hour labor day, etc. In fact, they seem to endorse almost everything except Prohibition which they decline to make an article of their creed.

Hugh L. White, and elder in the Presbyterian church and a prominent citizen of Richmond, Ky., committed suicide last Wednesday by hanging. There seems to be a mania for suicide in the family, as his daughter and several relatives have taken their own lives.
